

Research Nurse Position
The Infectious Diseases and Pulmonary Research Groups
Jewish General Hospital, Montreal
A McGill Teaching Hospital

We are seeking a dynamic, motivated and highly organized individual to work on tuberculosis and other infectious disease clinical studies and provide patient education and support. The successful candidate will be responsible for supporting clinical studies, educating patients about tuberculosis and other infectious diseases and coordinating their care with different health providers. The candidate must have at least completed a Nursing DEC and the ideal candidate will have prior clinical or research experience with infectious diseases and/or tuberculosis.

JOB DESCRIPTION:

- Coordination of study visits, documentation and timing of research-related procedures.
- Planning, implementation and maintaining data collection.
- Educating patients and their families about tuberculosis and other infectious diseases.
- Facilitate care coordination with different health providers in different sectors
- Performing job-related duties assigned by the supervisor, including supporting community outreach and associated educational activities.

REQUIREMENTS:

- Nursing DEC is required, Nursing bachelor's is an asset;
- Good standing member of the OIIQ;
- Minimum 2 years of experience;
- Bilingual: French and English, spoken and written;
- Solid written and verbal communication skills;
- Strong proficiency in Microsoft Office programs (Word, Excel, PowerPoint)
- Must be professional, possess a high degree of efficiency and self-motivation, and have a strong work ethic and respect of confidentiality.
- Ability to work well with co-workers, peers, monitors and potential subjects and have a positive demeanor

Starting date: Immediately

Hours: Monday to Friday (daytime)

Salary: Competitive (commensurate with experience and qualifications)

HOW TO APPLY

Please send a Cover Letter and CV that clearly describes your prior research experience to:

Dr. Christina Greenaway

Email: ca.greenaway@mcgill.ca

Tel: (514) 340-8222 x 22250